SOLVES FERMAT THEOREM.

Woman May Get $25,000 Prize Offered in German Professor's Will.

A woman who has taught mathematics for a decade in New York City is believed to have worked out the famous Fermat theorem, which has puzzled and confounded mathematicians for almost 250 years. As a consequence she is likely to receive the money reward offered by the will of a professor in French study university, but the Academy of Sciences of Göttingen is permitted, by the terms of the bequest, to withhold the prize for two years, in the case of which period of time the New York teacher's demonstration will be passed upon by the leading mathematicians of the world.

This is the theorem: The sum of the nth powers of two positive integers cannot be an nth power for any value of n except 2.

In the demonstration made by the woman, who prefers to remain incognito until Göttingen has crowned her work, every letter employed represents a positive integer. Her proof, in the printed form required by the conditions attached to the contest, covers eight pages and has satisfied Professor McMahon of Cornell university, Professor Moore of Chicago university and Professor Schwartz of Berlin that it embraces at least the most important of the almost innumerable forms into which the argument may fall.

For years mathematicians of all countries have labored at it. The difficulty, expressed crudely, is that it embodies in one step an indefinitely large number of calculations. To concern in regular progressions and not to leap irregularly over several iterations, to compass, in a word, all the various possibilities of numbers and their relations and properties, has fascinated mathematical students everywhere.

But in the opinion of several and among them the greatest of the modern exponents the greater Fermat theorem has been proved by an American woman. These gentlemen have endorsed her demonstration, and five copies have recently been received by the academy at Göttingen. She was awarded the better part of a year in preparing this proof, which is expected, will bear off the prize. Two years must elapse, however, before the result is positively known, in her case as in that of any contestant. She was born and educated in New England, but took her master's degree from Cornell. Her work as a teacher has been done in Brooklyn and New York.—New York Post.

Narrow Neckwear for Men.

Shops which cater to the better class of trade are showing the most conservative colors in neckwear. There is a demand for gray, in ties and four-in-hands, although this demand has been by no means considerable. Knit silk scarves, also woven scarves of satin, tulle, and other novelties in reversibles from one to one and a half inches wide are somewhat in vogue for strictly summer wear. Although neckwear, it is apparent, is having a better run in the west than in the east. Washable goods are selling some in solid colors, white especially. Graduated ties are coming into favor again, and striped, too. The present almost universal demand for close-fitting collars is bringing narrow ties under more notice than the front than was earlier expected. The narrowest are one inch wide and from this size the width increases to one and a half inches. The demand for these ties, it would appear, is confined to strictly summer wear. The best dressed men, however, continue to wear the broader shapes. Narrow open-ended graduated neckties and straight one-inches, especially reversible, are in demand.

Taxless Towns.

No fewer than 1,500 towns and villages in Germany still own, and have owned, down from the middle ages, so much common land that the inhabitants pay neither rates nor taxes. Five hundred of these townships and villages derive an great a rental from their lands that they are able, in addition, to pay every citizen on New Year's day, a bonus of from $25 to $100 as his share of the surplus revenue.

Agreed With the Court.

A lawyer came into court drunk, when the judge said to him: "Sir, I am sorry to see you in a situation which is a disgrace to yourself and family and the profession to which you belong."

The remark elicited the following colloquy: "Did your honor speak to me?"

"I did sir. I said, sir, that in my opinion you disgraced yourself and family, the court, and the profession by your course of conduct."

"May I—I please your honor, I have been an attorney in— in this court for fifteen years, and permit me to say your honor, that this is the first correct opinion I ever knew you to give."

"Halloo, Mrs. Lovejoy!" exclaimed a gentleman of that lady's acquaintance; "pray what brings you out so early in the day?" "Oh, I've just been to the photographer's with my pet dog, Dido" (which she carried in her arms), "and we have had our portraits taken together, haven't we, Dido? Beauty and the beast, you know, Mr. Johnson—with a saucy little laugh. "And what a little beauty he is, to be sure!" replied Johnson indignantly, as he fondly stroked poor Dido's head and rubbed his ears. And then he suddenly remembered, and became hot and cold in turn.

"I see you are cultivating a garden." "Yes," answered Mr. Crossroads. "I suppose you derive both pleasure and profit from it." "Not exactly. But it leaves me more contented. It makes the cost of vegetables in the market seem small by comparison."

Regarded as one of the most potent compounds ever introduced with which to combat all summer complaint and inflammation of the bowels, Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial has won for itself a reputation of no order terms for its purpose can assign to. For young or old suffering from these complaints it is the best medicine that can be procured.

"Well, and how did you sleep last night? Did you follow my advice and begin counting?" "Yes," answered the patient, "and I counted up to $18,000,000." "And then you fell asleep?" "No; then it was time to get up."

ROSY-CHEEKED BABIES

Nothing in the world is such a comfort and joy as a healthy, rosy-cheeked baby. But the price of Baby's health is constant vigilance on the part of the mother. His little body must come suddenly and the wise mother will always be in a position to treat them ones. No other medicine can take the place of Baby's Own Tablets in relieving and curing the ills of babyhood and childhood, and there is no other medicine as safe. Mrs. W. Viggers, Perretton, Ont., says:—"My baby was troubled with his stomach, and was very cross while getting his teeth, and did not sleep well at night. I gave him Baby's Own Tablets with the best results. He is now one of the best natured babies one could wish for. Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont."

Their Fortunate Escape.

They had walked halfway through the park at a snail pace, and she now sank on a shaded bench. He seated himself beside her. They were entirely alone save for an old man at one end of their seat immersed in a book. Their agitated conversation continued.

"It is too dreadful," she shuddered, covering her face with her hands as if to shut out some unbearable sight.

"Horrible," he agreed, deeply moved and tapping the profuse perspiration from his brow.

"I cannot bear to think of it. The loss of hope, happiness, perhaps even life itself!"

"Hush!" he interrupted. "Let us strive to think of it no more or it may grow to prey upon us."

"Harden me," said the old man on the end of the bench, his watery eyes distended in lively apprehension. "Has there been some awful disaster? Have you been forced to look upon some awful tragedy?"

The young couple regarded each other in some confusion. Hastily the youth answered: "No, sir. You see, we have just become engaged, and we were talking of what a calamity it would have been had we never met."

Her Greenhorn Mother.

"I was going to Pacheco," said a woman at the Waldorf, "when I saw sitting near by a little girl with her mother, the mother evidently a foreigner, the child born in this country, both surrounded with bundles in the foreign way. The child was six. The conductor came along, and the child held out the tickets."

"I want you to put us off at Pacheco," she said, smiling at him, and help us with our bundles, please. My mother's a greenhorn. She doesn't know anything about traveling."

"I watched her until the two arrived at their destination, and I think I have never seen a more polite little girl or a more seemingly dutiful daughter. It was quite evident to my mind that she meant to do respect to her mother by calling her by what would seem to us to be an opprobrious epithet. She had merely adopted one of our slang words as the very best of English.—New York Press.

A Many-Sided Man.

Sir John Quick, Australia's new Postmaster-General, is a Cornishman by birth, although nearly all his life has been spent in Australia. He has been many things in his time, including an engineer, a compositor, an engine-driver in a mine, and a reporter. He then went to Melbourne University, where he took his B.A., and became a law reporter on The Age. He was called to the Victorian Bar, represented Sandhurst in the Assembly, and took the degree of LL.D. at Melbourne University. He has practiced as a barrister, and has contributed much to Australian literature.

Postman's Long Service.

An Imperial Service medal has lately been presented to Mr. Joseph Holt, Coventry's (Eng.) oldest postman, for long and faithful service. The recipient served nearly thirty years, and during that time the population of the Warwickshire city has grown from 37,670 to 91,000.

Fairly Warned.

The meek and lowly clerk had just proposed to the fair schoolmistress, and she had spread over the soda fountain, "Flee away," murmured the fair fax water dispenser.

"You love another?" he queried. "Flee! I do," she retorted. "What's it to you, little boy?"

"Oh, nothing," he said. "But you are making the mistake of your life in turning me down and allowing them to fool you with 'something just as good.'"

An Arbitrary Classification.

"So you think every patriot has a more or less clearly defined ambition to hold public office?" "Yes," answered Senator Boraham. "As a rule, patriots may be divided into two classes—the appointed and the disappointed."—Washington Star.

Bringing it Home.

He was a kind and benevolent old gentleman, who took much interest in little boys.

One day, as he was walking along the street, he stopped and looked with compressed sympathy at a lad whose face bore clear evidence of having been in the wars.

"My poor little fellow," he said, patting the boy on the head, "I fear you've been fighting. You've got a black eye. Dear me, now, I'm really sorry."

"Never you mind about me," said the poor little fellow. "You go home and be sorry for your own little boy. He's got two black eyes."

A country visitor to a big city contemplated with amazement the huge sign displayed over the entrance to an institute in a prominent thoroughfare: "Stammering Institute. Trial Lesson Free." "Upon my soul," exclaimed the rural traveler, "if that don't beat all! I knew they taught most everything these days, but who the dickens wants to learn stammer?"

Lifeline Soap is delightfully refreshing for Bath or Toilet. For washing underclothing it is unequalled. Cleanse and purify.

A young gentleman with a very plain face was rather annoyed because his view of the stage was obstructed by the hat of a pretty girl who was sitting in front of him in the gallery. Wishing to get a glimpse of the performance, he plucked up courage and, in a nervous voice, exclaimed: "See here, miss, I want to look as well as you."

"Oh, do you?" she replied, in a rich Cockney drawl, as she turned round and looked at him square in the eye. "Then you'd better run home and change your face."

A party of recruits were taken to the shooting range for the first time. The men fired at a target 500 yards away, and not one hit it. They were next tried at a target 200 yards away, and still every one missed. They were next tried at just 100 yards away, but no one hit it.

"Attention!" thundered the sergeant. "Fix Bayonets! Charge! It's your only chance!"

The young American was stopped at the door of a fashionable church in London. "Are you related to the bride or groom?" asked the sexton. "No," said the young man. "Then what interest, may I ask, have you in a ceremony that is to be the of the quietest character?" "In the defunct canon," replied the young man.

The tramp rang the doctor's bell and asked the pretty young woman who opened the door if she would be so kind as to ask the doctor if he had a pair of old clothes he would kindly give away. "I'm the doctor," said the smiling young woman, and the tramp sat fatigued.

Hope for the Chronic Dyspeptic.

Through lack of consideration of the body's needs many persons allow disorders of the digestive apparatus to endure until they become chronic, filling days and nights with suffering. To these a course of Parache's Vegetable Pills is recommended as a sure and speedy way to regain health. These pills are specially compounded to combat dyspepsia and the many ills that follow in its train, and they are successful always.

Town Improvements

Have you taken a walk all over your town this Fall as yet? If not it will be a pleasant surprise to you to note all the improvements that have been made within the last three months. Streets have been graded and drained, crossings lowered and put into good shape, sloughs drained out, the railroad crossing fixed permanently, the blind line west of town opened right into town, a big fire guard on town line west, and last but not by any means least the cemetery road has been fixed, besides a number of other small jobs that cannot be seen so easily. Yes, it will certainly pay you to go out at once and see for yourself where your taxes have been spent.

Another spot that has needed attention for some time is the cemetery and this also is receiving a thorough overhauling. It has been resurveyed, weeds have been cut out on the vacant spots and new roads are being made. The cemetery trustees are to be congratulated on their efforts and if the owners of lots there will only support the Trustees in their good work by attending to their lots the cemetery will attract instead of repel those who wish to and spend a quiet hour in the city of the dead.

Get Ready for the Fair

Didsbury Fall Fair opens on the 9th of October and will probably be larger and better than ever, which is to be expected after the exceedingly good season we have just ended. Didsbury district is fast developing her mixed farming lands and there are no better horses and cattle raised anywhere than right here, which materially helps in making the fair the success it always has been and a credit to us. Bring the best you have and let the visitors who will be here in large numbers, see what we can do.

This is naturally the best time for anyone to visit a district to see its resources and consequently with the advertising the fair has received in the Fall fairs list, there is bound to be a lot of strangers with us who will take an interest in what you bring.

Help make the fair a success again this year.

Canadian International Exposition

If the people of Canada are satisfied to accept the opinions of such world-famous men as Lord Strathcona, Earl Grey, Lord Northcliffe, James J. Hill, Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson, Governor Hughes (New York), Governor Johnson (Minnesota), C. M. Hayes, Governor Deneen (Illinois), the editors of big London dailies, and of over a hundred editors in the nine provinces that comprise the Dominion, then Canada will hold a great International Exposition in 1912.

In the past six weeks at Winnipeg, conferences have been held with these distinguished men, presenting to them in the fullest manner possible the aims and objects under consideration.

FREE LITERATURE ISSUED

A "Copy of the Case," as presented to Sir Wilfred Laurier, Prime Minister; Why Canada should hold a great International Exposition in 1912; A compilation of fifty editorial extracts from the press of Canada, are three pieces of free literature issued by the Exposition Committee at Winnipeg that should be read by every Canadian.

INTERNATIONAL INTEREST GROWING

August Isaac, president of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of France, was in Winnipeg on Friday last, enquiring into Exposition matters. Victor Larnelle, Commissioner-general of the French section of the Alaska-Yukon Fair, writes that Mr. Huot and several members of the International jury of awards of France will wait upon Canada's Exposition Committee in November. The governments of Germany, Switzerland and Austria have also become interested, and have instructed their consuls and representatives at Winnipeg to report on the proposed World's Fair for Canada. United States Consul-General John E. Jones, who has just returned to his post after an extended tour, reports that an increased interest in the big fair for Canada is shown throughout the States, and that the official representatives presented by him to the Department of State at Washington were most favorably received.

Protection from Prairie Fires

The Saskatchewan Department of Agriculture has issued a warning to farmers regarding the necessity of taking more than the usual precautions this season against the starting and spreading of prairie fires. Every year many reports come in through a season advising of farmers here and there having lost houses, grain, etc., and such losses should be prevented if possible. Farmers should safeguard their crops by suitable fireguards before the season of prairie fires begins.

Any and every possible precaution which suggests itself to the farmer and the thresher should be taken advantage of and put into effect. The country has been blessed with an abundant harvest this year. It has escaped the many drawbacks which all too frequently occur, and it would be a thousand pities if at the eleventh hour through the carelessness of himself or his neighbor, any farmer should lose the result of a year's hard work—Commercial.

Municipal Cars a Success

Calgary's pay-as-you-enter municipal street railway system continues to prove to pay well. It has been a success from the start. The Labor Day receipts show that 19,023 passengers were carried during the day. The average daily receipts now are over the $400 mark. Six more cars will be ordered.

Strathcona Retains Office

Lord Strathcona says that his retention of the office of high commissioner in London was due solely to the fact that Sir Wilfred Laurier had earnestly requested him to hold it, the premier urging that it was in the public interest that he should do so.

Letters like the following, which were sent to a western editor, are the cause of premature baldness in editorial sanctuaries: "Please send me a few copies of the paper, which had the obituary and verses about the death of my child a week or so ago. Also publish the enclosed clipping about my niece's marriage. And I wish you would mention in your local columns if it don't rest anything that I have a couple of bull calves to sell. Send me a couple of extra copies of this week. As my subscription is out, please stop my paper. Times are too hard to waste money on a newspaper."

HELLO THERE!

Will Get Mexican Market

F. W. Peters, of the C. P. R., is very enthusiastic over the A.B.C. grain route and says the practicality of the route has been demonstrated. Now that the success of the western crops are assured he says as much grain will go by the coast this year as last.

Mention is made of the possibility of Mexico again allowing free entry to foreign wheat on account of the failure of that crop in the southern republic this season. This information has been anxiously awaited by western shippers for some time. The tariff was raised, but whether it will be held off long enough to be of service to Western Canada, is a point on which no definite assurance has been recently received. If Alberta and Western Saskatchewan wheat can find a market in Mexico for a portion of the season it will provide a splendid opportunity to dispose of the crop on a foreign market which is easily reached.—Calgary Herald.

Opening of Alberta's Legislative Buildings

Elaborate arrangements are being made for the festivities which will mark the laying of the corner-stone of Alberta's Legislative Buildings on October 1st. His Excellency, Lord Grey will officiate at the ceremony and he will be surrounded, in addition to his own immediate suite, by a brilliant assemblage of public men from all parts of Canada.

Sir Wilfred Laurier and the members of his cabinet have been invited. Hon. Frank Oliver is already in Edmonton and will remain in the West until after the ceremony. The Members of the Dominion Senate and Parliament have been invited to attend, as also Hon. David Laid, the first Governor of the North West and all Governors and Legislators of the various Provinces, and undoubtedly many will avail themselves of this occasion to visit the West during the golden Autumn, the most enjoyable time of the year.

His Excellency will arrive here on September 30th and that night the Thistle Rink will be the scene of a brilliant reception given by his Honor the Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Bulyea. The decorations on this occasion will even surpass those at the Inaugural Ball, when a wealth of furs, and shields with grain and lights, transformed the big hall into a fair scene.

Owing to the large number of guests from different parts of the Province and Canada who will be present at this reception and the Thistle Rink has been secured on the following night, this hall will again be thronged for a large public ball is being planned by the Women's Hospital Aid.

The laying of the corner-stone will take place on the afternoon of the 1st. An escort of R. N. W. M. P. Police and one hundred soldiers of the 101st Regiment will form a body guard for His Excellency and in the big procession planned to pass through the gaily decorated streets, there will be men of the Alberta Mounted Rifles, the 101st Regiment, the Edmonton Cadets and thousands of school children.

It is expected that special excursions to the celebration will be planned from various points in the Province upon all railways running into Edmonton.

No reaching across a hot stove and over steaming pots to turn direct draft damper on Sask-Alta. It is placed right at front of stove (see illustration) where a child can readily operate it.

Hogs At $8.35

What better text for a sermon on the necessity for live stock raising could one possibly have than the words which head these lines? Hogs touched that figure within the month! The moral, indeed, is so obvious, especially when considered with the fact that uniformly good prices for hogs have prevailed for several years past, that we shall refrain from delivering a homily and be content with congratulating the farmers of the West that, after many years of vicissitude, they have at last got a stable and profitable market for one large and important kind of farm stock.

When speakers and writers have urged farmers to keep more stock, unsatisfactory markets were employed as the chief excuse for not accepting the proffered advice. Improvement has been evident in the markets for both cattle and hogs during recent years, and only those foolish individuals who insist on dumping their pasture-fed cattle on to a market glutted with range cattle in the fall of the year, rather than make any provision for carrying them beyond this annual bargain day, have had any great kick coming as to the cattle markets. The hog market has been even better sustained, and that man was absolutely blind to the facts set forth weekly on the market page who could not sell his hogs to good advantage if they were any good. Under these circumstances would it not be well for you to look over the situation once more, decide that things are not just the same as they were years ago, when you swore off live stock, and write some of the breeders for prices for your favorite breeds of hogs and cattle?

Western Estimates of Grain

Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta show, as compared with the same time last year, August 31st, 149,285,000 bushels of wheat, against 104,054,000 bushels; 187,802,000 bushels of oats, against 107,865,000 and 33,893,000 bushels of barley, against 25,951,000. The lowest quotations given by the correspondents have been discarded where a range of higher and lower yield has been reported.

The Town Council met in the Council chamber on Monday night and the following Councilors were present: Hembling, (acting Mayor), Good, Moyer, Hunsperger, Liesemer, Osmond, Clerk Reed, Solicitor Patterson.

Mayor Corbit not being present, Councilor Hembling was elected as Mayor.

Mr. Newton, who has been employed by the Constable to do scavenger work but who had been dismissed, appeared before the Council asking for re-instatement at his old job.

The Council had no power in the matter as they did not employ Mr. Newton.

The following accounts for lumber, team work on roads, etc., were passed: D. C. Corbitt, $100.50; N. E. Eby, $8.00; Mr. Dawson, $3; J. Mortimer, 75c.; Miss Dowler, $20.23 (type-writing by-laws); W. H. Smith & Co., $11.10; Mr. Oakes, $26.00; M. J. Haas, $34; L. Holderman, $26.00; F. Holderman, $26; P. Vernon, $100; (50 days team); P. Vernon, $1.50; H. Roeth, $76.00; J. L. Beane, $3; A. McKenzie, $4; Mr. Emery, $74; H. Roeth, $212.

I. Hallman asked to have brush cut on west side of his property in east Didsbury on road allowance for fire-guard. Granted.

The sum of $25 will be expended on repairing ditch on Shantz Avenue, east of Dr. Reid's residence.

A by-law governing the "ling of hay within 500 feet of the centre of the C. & E. railway tracks east was given three readings and passed. The by-law provides a fine not to exceed $100 or an option of not more than 40 days imprisonment.

The most important business of the evening was then taken up, that of striking the tax rate for the year. The School Board requires 9 mills and it was found that the old rate of 8 mills for town purposes would be sufficient, making a total of 17 mills on the dollar.

The Council then adjourned.

In a certain small English village there were two butchers living in the same street. One placard his sausages at 1s. a pound, and the rival promptly placed 8d. on his card. No. 1 then placed a notice in his window, saying that sausages under 1s. could not be guaranteed. No. 2's response to this was the announcement, "I have supplied sausages to the King." In the opposite window the following morning appeared an extra large card bearing the words, "God Save the King."
